

PacketPortal Deployment Services

To ensure that your new PacketPortal solution helps you achieve your business and technical goals quickly, Viavi Solutions™ offers a full range of Deployment Services that bring together our technical expertise, experience, and industry-proven processes and procedures.

PacketPortal Deployment Services include:

- Deployment Engineering
- Solution Verification and Acceptance
- Operator and Administrator Training
- Program Management

Deployment Engineering

Deploying a network data access and management solution takes time, organization, and resources. Experienced Viavi technical experts will perform the following services to help minimize the time, resources, and risks during deployment and provide you an on-time solution delivery:

- Site survey and readiness check
- Centralized standard installation process (server staging)
- PacketPortal network installation
- PacketPortal solution commissioning
- System expansion evaluation
- Pre-defined lab deployment services packages

Solution Verification and Acceptance

In addition to solution commissioning, Viavi guarantees successful deployment of your PacketPortal solution by verifying:

- Communication and synchronization between core PacketPortal components and target applications are established
- Health of the PacketPortal platform can be monitored
- Acceptance test criteria are met

Operator and Administrator Training

As part of the deployment service, Viavi experts will provide comprehensive, hands-on training to ensure your team has the proficiency to configure, manage, and maintain your PacketPortal solution.

Program Management

Understanding that your PacketPortal solution deployment may involve different vendors, multiple geographical locations, and across different functional teams, Viavi offers Program Management services with proven processes and procedures to help plan and drive the deployment process from beginning to end, tracking every task and keeping stakeholders informed, ensuring a smooth and on-time solution delivery to meet your business needs.
